Program Rationale: (Why is this program important?)

"Promoting Literacy in Low Performing Students" will allow every student in Fourth Grade to have a chapter book in hand throughout the whole school year. We will be reading grade level appropriate chapter books and analyzing them as we work through our literacy standards. This will give our low performing students the exposure to high interest grade level appropriate books, leading to better comprehension skills and growth in their reading performance.

Program Impact: (How will the teachers and students benefit from this project?)

This program will get our students excited about reading and increase their comprehension skills of grade level text. When a student gets excited about reading they are more likely to become lifelong learners.

Program Evaluation Method: (How will you measure teacher and student success?)

Student success will be measured by comprehension growth using programs such as STAR, iReady, classroom assessments, and FSA scores.

Program Timeline: (provide a project start date and completion date)

The project will ongoing throughout the entire school year.
